Low-Income Forum on Energy

Welcome

On behalf of the LIFE Steering Committee, welcome to today's LIFE Regional Meeting, one of seven taking place around New York State this year. As the cost of energy continues to pose challenges to New Yorkers with low or fixed incomes, it is important to make available to community leaders and service providers useful, timely information to assist low-income consumers. Today's program will supply you with updates on key programs along with valuable information on available resources and will highlight certain regional best practices. The program also includes new developments in the efforts toward Reforming the Energy Vision (REV), which is designed to provide customers with greater efficiency, reliability, and resiliency. Please also take advantage of the tremendous opportunity for networking at today's event. Often, it takes the right contacts to help serve your clients in the most effective and efficient manner. I hope that you enjoy today's meeting, and I'd like to thank you for participating in the LIFE dialogue!

– Len Silverstein, LIFE Chairman

9:00 am – 9:15 am

Welcome and Introductory Remarks

Chris Coll, NYSERDA
Len Silverstein, NYS Department of Public Service

9:15 am – 10:45 am

Session 1: An Overview of REV and Updates on Other PSC Proceedings Affecting Low-Income Customers

An Update on the Clean Energy Fund

The NYS Public Service Commission's Reforming the Energy Vision (REV) initiative will lead to regulatory changes that promote more efficient use of energy and a deeper penetration of renewable resources such as wind and solar. Related to REV, the Proceeding on Community Net Metering (15-E-0082) can help low-income customers participate in community solar projects. Community Choice Aggregation (CCA) (14-M-0224) allows local governments to procure energy supply services for their residents. As part of a CCA program, local governments can develop distributed energy resources or otherwise engage in energy planning. An update will be provided on the Low-Income Proceeding (14-M-0565), which is designed to examine programs to address energy affordability issues for low-income utility customers. In addition, the PSC has ordered new safeguards (12-M-0476) to protect customers of energy service companies (ESCOs).

As a key component of New York State's Reforming the Energy Vision, the Clean Energy Fund (CEF) proposal represents a 10-year, $5 billion funding commitment to support clean energy market development and innovation. The CEF will deliver market enabling strategies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions through efficiency and renewables, increase private investment and accelerate growth in the State's clean energy economy, reduce customer energy bills, and ultimately provide more value to customers. This session will provide attendees with an update on the status of the Clean Energy Fund proposal and an overview of the strategies specific to low-to-moderate income consumers and communities.

Speakers:

Len Silverstein, NYS Department of Public Service
Chris Coll, NYSERDA

10:45 am – 11:00 am

Networking Break

11:00 am – 11:30 am

Session 2: PUSH Green Ambassador Program

PUSH Green utilizes their Ambassadors Program to expand their network far beyond the reaches of their West Side Community. By working with elected officials, community leaders, large employment centers, and other partner organization across Western New York, they are able to connect with homeowners and renters who they may not be able to reach through traditional grassroots efforts with various low and no-cost energy efficiency programs.

Speakers:

Jason Kulaszewski, PUSH Buffalo
Luana DeJesus, PUSH Buffalo

11:30 am – 12:00 pm

Session 3: HUD in Upstate New York

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) provides critical resources for housing and community development across the nation. This session will explore some of those resources and the important role that HUD's Buffalo Field Office plays in making those resources available to organizations and communities in Upstate New York and the households they serve.

Speakers:

Joan Spilman, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

12:00 pm – 1:00 pm

Lunch and Networking

1:00 pm – 1:45 pm

Session 4: Utility Updates

Utilities have a long history of providing energy assistance to their low-income customers—from budget billing to efficiency programs. This utility updates session provides the most recent information on utility low-income energy efficiency and payment assistance programs currently being administered in New York State.

Speakers:

Ebony Brumfield, RG&E
Vicky Hattala, National Fuel Gas
Miguel Santos, National Grid

1:45 pm – 2:15 pm

Session 5: Heating System Installation for Low-Income Households: Lessons Learned through EmPower New York

The severe weather in the last two years has stressed the heating systems in use across our State. Breakdowns in the middle of the winter can be life-threatening situations. In the last two years, EmPower New York has developed procedures for assisting households in need of heating replacement and repair in the middle of winter. This session will explore ways to optimize referrals, weigh considerations of budget and efficiency, and coordinate heating repair with energy efficiency services.

Speaker:

Kelvin Keraga, NYSERDA

2:15 pm – 2:45 pm

Session 6: Erie County's Role in New York's Energy Future

New York State is undergoing sweeping changes in the way it envisions energy generation and utility service through the Reforming Energy Vision initiative. Its ambitious goals provide an incredible opportunity for local governments to “lead by example” - to shape a strategy for increasing low-income energy security to drive (and possibly transform) policymaking, service delivery, and program development for a more sustainable and prosperous region. The session approaches the question: How can Erie County position itself to take advantage of this moment?

Speaker:

Eric Walker, Erie County Department of Public Works

2:45 pm – 3:15 pm

Session 7: Consumer Protections: Identity Theft and Scams

Identity theft is one of the fastest growing crimes in America. Victimized someone is easier than ever, with widespread availability of personal information and access to it. With only a few pieces of valid personal identifiable information, thieves may be able to apply for and receive credit and/or utility services in your name, as well as file fraudulent tax returns. Thieves can also use a variety of scams, frauds, and hoaxes to gain access to your personal information or simply to steal your finances. This presentation is designed to increase your awareness of identity theft and provide strategies to help you prevent victimization. It also provides basic tips to help you recognize and avoid scams while presenting the tools and resources to utilize if you fall victim to a scam.

Speaker:

Melanie Grossman, NYS Department of State

3:15 pm – 3:30 pm

Networking Break

3:30 pm – 4:00 pm

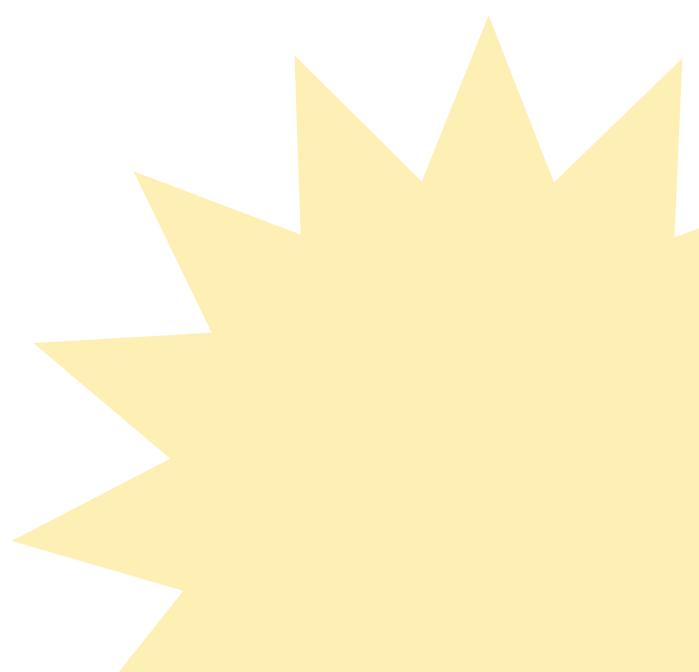

Session 8: Use a LIFE Line

Do you still have questions that were not answered throughout the day? Do you have a specific case that you would like to get input on? Use a LIFE line and ask your colleagues for help!
