General Description of Project (250 words or more):

Agricola Wind (the Bid Facility, or Project) is a proposed wind energy generation facility of up to 99 MW in capacity within the Towns of Scipio and Venice in Cayuga County, New York. Liberty Renewables (the Proposer, or Liberty) has been actively developing the Bid Facility since 2020. The Bid Facility’s POI is the Miliken-Wright Ave 115 kilovolt transmission line. Land use near the Bid Facility is primarily of agricultural. Given the agricultural importance the area, Bid Facility components have been sited to allow the continued use of farming practices throughout the site, while also considering setbacks from existing residences and non-participating properties. The Proposer’s dedicated team has aimed to foster transparent and equitable relationships with the local representatives, organizations, and families hosting the Project. Liberty has held two public open houses to date and have attended more than 20 town board meetings and met individually with Town Supervisors, Town and Planning Board councilpersons, county representatives, emergency responders, resident groups, and other stakeholders. The Bid Facility’s Article VIII permit application is expected to be filed with ORES in Fall 2024. Liberty Renewables was formed in 2019 and is led by its sponsor Copenhagen Infrastructure Partners (CIP). CIP currently operates over 800 MW of land-based wind projects in the United States and is well-positioned to support the successful delivery of Liberty’s New York State portfolio.
